Safety and Protection

Welcome to A Course in Miracles: Living the Love, Walking the Talk with Reverend Jennifer Hadley, a beloved teacher of the course, who has helped thousands learned how to express their beliefs from moment to moment in their everyday lives. Get ready to focus on your intent to be the Love, be the Peace through practical application.

Here is your host, Reverend Jennifer Hadley.

Opening Prayer

Jennifer Well, hello, hello, hello. Thank you for joining with me transcending time and space to join together for our Awakening, for being our true selves. I'm Jennifer Hadley. I am so happy to join with you today. We are.

We're looking at "Safety and Protection" today. We're going to start, as we always do, the blessing and a prayer. I'm inviting you to place your hand on your heart to take a breath of Love and Gratitude with me. Let's tune in, let's tune up, and Partner Up with the Higher Holy Spirit Self to remember that our true identity is perfect Love. It always has been and it always will be. So grateful to recognize that Love is what we are, Love is all that there is, and we are one with each other. I AM that I AM and I AM One with the I AM Presence of every being everywhere, so grateful that we can recognize this right now. We gather together for the purpose of releasing the thoughts, the beliefs, the patterns that no longer serve us, and opening to live a truly miraculous life. In Grace and Gratitude, we share the benefits with all and we let it be, we allow it to be so, and so it is. Amen. Amen, Amen, Amen.

I Am Sustained by the Love of God

Yes. When I'm preparing for the show, I ask for guidance, what am I to share about today? The guidance I got for us today is Lesson 50, "I Am Sustained by the Love of God." Lesson 50 in the Workbook. It says here, "Here is the answer to every problem that will confront you today and tomorrow and throughout time." Don't you love that? [chuckles] Just think of that, really, truly think about that, and take it seriously, right? Because, how often do we look for the answer to problems. We're looking in the world, we're having conversations, we're having discussions, we're doing research, we're trying to figure it out. We're trying this thing, and that thing, and this thing, and that thing, and still the problem continues, sometimes for many, many, many years, decades even.

Yet Lesson 50, it says, "Here is the answer to every problem that will confront you today and tomorrow, and throughout time. In this world, you believe you are sustained by everything, but God. Your Faith is placed in the most trivial and insane symbols: pills, money, protective clothing, influence, prestige, being liked, knowing the right people and an endless list of forms of nothingness, that you endow with magical powers. All these things are your replacements for the Love of God.

All these things are cherished to ensure a body identification, their songs of praise to the ego. Do not put your face in the worthless. It will not sustain you. Only the Love of God will protect you in all circumstances. It will lift you out of every trial and raise you high above all the perceived dangers of this world into a climate of perfect Peace and safety. It will transport you into a state of mind that nothing can threaten, nothing can disturb and where nothing can intrude upon the eternal calm of the Son of God."

Alright, "I'm Sustained by the Love of God," Lesson 50, the answer to every problem, you'll ever experience. Let's break this down and apply it, because if we can truly learn to apply it, we can eliminate all the problems that we've been investing so much time, energy, effort, money and attention in, Doesn't that sound good? How do we practically begin to do this and make this transition? Well, isn't that what A Course in Miracles and the Workbook for A Course in Miracles is all about, making this transition from placing our Faith in the ego to placing our Faith in Spirit? Yes, of course. This is the transition that we're making. The more we're willing to have trust in Love, the faster we're going to make this transition, and that certainly have been my experience.

It's so tempting to not rely on Love, to not trust God. It's so tempting, because we've really forgotten how to do it. But once you remember, then you realize, oh, yes, this is how it's supposed to be. No wonder it was feeling so difficult, so dense, so dark, it's because I was placing my Faith in the ego and now I can see. I can place my Faith in Love.

Now, very often, we talk about the prayer of being truly helpful on page 28, where it talks about being able to relax into knowing that the One who sent us, will provide for us, will guide us, will even tell us what to say and what to do. Think of how so often people are afraid, "What am I going to say? What am I going to do? What if this happens? What if that happens? What do I say? What do I do?" Because I have a lot of conversation with people like that, they are afraid.

If we are willing to be truly helpful, which is to place our Faith in the Love of God, we will be guided. But the only way to find that out, is to experience it. Because if it were possible for us to find it out by reading a book or taking someone else's word for it, then we would already be living that way. But we have to have our own experience and no one can choose for us, no one can choose to place their Faith in Love, place your Faith in Love for you on your behalf.

One of the great practices is really to be able to look the challenge, who are the seeming problem in the face and to say, "You have to power." The only power there is, is the Love of God. I AM sustained by the Love of God. Therefore, I have no problems. All my needs are met in God.

Now, the thing is we get attached and we think we have needs. We think we have the need to pay our mortgage, right? We think we have the need for this person in our life. We think we have the need for this or that. People even think, "Oh, I have the need for this car. I have the need for this." Well, it does seem like we have the need for all these things, but in truth, if we are willing, we can see that all our needs are met in God.

Now, we don't have to give up everything in this world. All we have to do is, really, truly to have an amazing miraculous healing and to eliminate all the problems is to give up our attachment to the things of this world to thinking that we need them, to give up the attachment to thinking that we need to do this, this, this and this in order to be made right.

The Gifts of God

This is one of the sort of--its hidden in plain sight things is that we think, that a lot of the things that we are choosing to do will improve the quality of our life and will make it so the people appreciate us, people like us, people value us, people think we're good and right. The facts are that that's all just perception. It's not real. It's not lasting. It's not eternal. What is truly lasting is and eternal, as we all think we know, is Love. It's the Peace of God. It's the spiritual qualities of God, the Harmony, the Joy, the Freedom, the Wisdom, the Creativity. These are the eternal gifts of God. These are what we really, truly can share with our brother and sister. They are given to us in their fullness, 100% of the time, and they are never taken from us.

The gift of Prosperity, and Abundance, and wholeness, and Freedom is ours already. The only reason we don't experience that is because we've placed our Faith and trust in something else. That trust in something else is literally the very thing that's blocking the experience we'd like to have. How crazy is that? We're sustained by the Love of God.

Put your Faith in illusions. It says here, "They will fail you." I'm sorry. "Put not your Faith in illusions, they will fail you. Put all your Faith in the Love of God within you, not outside of you, eternal changes in forever on feeling." This is the answer to whatever confronts you today. Put your Faith in Love. Put your Faith in Love. If something is confronting you today, how do you put your Faith in Love?

Well, you know, I--as you may know, if you've been listening to the show for a while, the show is sponsored by a non-profit ministry that I started. It's called Power of Love Ministry. It's a teaching ministry and we offer all kinds of classes, many free classes. In fact, right now, I'm doing a series set. I'm so in love with, called Stop Playing Small with a special focus for light workers, who feel like they're playing small and repeating the same lessons again and again. It's totally free for you at JenniferHadley.com. Those free classes, this radio show and many other things are sponsored by tax-deductible contributions to the Power of Love Ministry. Thank you so much to everyone who has contributed, because you're really bring a lot of benefit to people all over the world. Last year, we had people from over 100 countries participating in the free classes. How amazing is that? I just feel it's amazing.

This practical application, Love solving the problems, sometimes in my experience as the leader of a ministry, there are challenges, difficulties. While it takes a team of people all over the world, it's a small team, who are doing most of the work and sometimes I wonder how will everyone get paid and I wonder sometimes, how has that technology going to work, how are we actually going to be able to pull these off, but I don't worry about it and I'm not afraid about it. We have technical difficulties almost every day, because it's such a technically based thing. We have technical difficulties with the radio show sometimes. It's just the technology goes off from under you and there is nothing that you can do to make it work. You just hold the space that everything is working together perfectly even though it doesn't always make sense.

For me, that's my practice that when I get bumped off the call or the internet and I can't get back on, I just take a deep breath and say, well, if I meant to reconnect, show me how to do it. It's learning to practice trusting in Love. What I notice is that all day long, I get guidance to do this or to do that, but here is the key to it. It's interesting. One of the things that I have very strongly is an auditory intuitive ability and so I recognize people's voices very easily. People ask me all the time, "Well, how do you know that's God? How do you know that's inspiration from your Higher Self? How do you know that's intuition? How do you know it's not ego? There are some very simple ways to know the difference between ego and intuition.

I will share some of those when we come back from the break because I can see where about to go to a break here. While we go to the break; why don't you sign up for my free Stop Playing Small series. I did a class yesterday, that I think you might just really like and we've got a few more classes coming up over the next week and a half, so you can check those things out. Of course, you can always make a contribution at PowerofLoveMinistry.net.

Remember, too, this is, I believe, episode 210 of this radio show. All the previous episodes are available for free download at unity.fm and also at iTunes for your iPads and your iPhones and your iPods. Also at Stitcher if you have an android, and if you take the time to write a review, it just helps iTunes and Stitcher to know that, oh, you really value this, and so you'd like to see more of it and they will share it with more people, I close that.

I'm Jennifer Hadley and you're listening to A Course in Miracles, where we're living the Love and we're walking the talk. I will be right back.

Thank you for tuning in for A Course in Miracles: Living the Love, Walking the Talk. Get ready to focus on your intent to be the Love, be the Peace through practical application, as we return to A Course in Miracles: Living the Love, Walking the Talk.

Ego or Intuition

Jennifer Welcome back. I'm Jennifer Hadley.

We are talking about "Safety and Protection", that in our choosing Love as where our safety lies and recognizing, that we're sustained by the Love of God, which is not visible in this world, although, we can certainly feel it and experience it in this world. This is a practice and as it says here, "Here's the answer to every problem that will confront you today and tomorrow and throughout time," Lesson 50 in the Workbook. Let's hunker down and get Lesson 50, so that we have the answer to every problem that will ever confront us.

I was starting to say that about intuition. Here's how you know if it's ego or if it's intuition, if it's Spirit. Ego has a negative voice all the time. It doesn't ever have any other voice. Ego will say like, "You shouldn't eat that." That's not intuition. Or ego will say, "You should eat that." That's not intuition either. Ego will tell us, "Oh, that's stupid. That's wrong. That's bad." Spirit doesn't use that kind of language. Let's face it, I get intuition all the time from feeling which has no words, but then, I can translate it into words when I connect to it.

A lot of times when I'm doing the radio show or teaching a class or something like that, I can intuit with people's questions or when people tell me all the time, "Oh, my God. It's like you knew my question, just as I knew it and then you answered it. How do you do that?" It's really because there's just this one mind. A lot of times, we think that the answer to our problem is getting somebody to understand us, getting somebody to do what we want them to do, something like that, and we think, oh, we have to go through some kind of laborious explanation, or training, or something to get them to understand.

But remember, all minds are joined. Now, of course, not everyone is listening, not everyone is paying attention, because they're listening to the ego. However, if you're listening to the Love of God, if that's your teacher, if the Holy Spirit is your teacher, then you will have a whole different experience in your life. It happens to me all the time because there are times when things seem to go really array. You know, where it seems like, "Oh, this is actually falling apart." Where things seem to not be going well, simply because they are not going the way, I thought they would go or the way, I intended it to go, or the way I thought, I would like it to go. Sometimes, when things fall apart or change or shift in ways I didn't anticipate, planned for, or expect, it's the best thing ever.

Perceptions

How it becomes the best thing ever is in the midst of it, when there's the big change up happening, and it seems like hurricane, collapse, devastation, I stand strong, and I say, "I don't know what anything is for, but I'd like to, and clearly, this has to be the highest and best because that's all I energize. That's all I'm interested in." This is the highest and best. It doesn't make sense to me yet, but it will. All I have to do is keep knowing that I am sustained by the Love of God. I will always be sustained by the Love of God. Nothing real can be threatened and I am real. There's no need to have any anxiety, upset, worried, concerned, doubt, or fear. I can place my total Faith and trust in God blindly. Blindly.

Now, I also have to be willing in order to really--let's see, what's the expression here? In order to really feel that protection and safety, I have to be willing to keep tuned to that frequency of Love. Sometimes--imagine that you're working through a war zone, a building is collapsing around you, to be able to stay in the Love, and say, "I'm sustained by the Love of God." Though I walk through the valley of the shadows, the valley of death, I shall fear no evil, because God has made a way for me, and I'm willing to find it. I'm willing to keep looking and listening in order to find it. I will not be distracted by opinions and judgments, and sometimes that means you have to, as they say, come out from among them.

People will say, "Ooh, this is not good." Well, a lot--sometimes when people say that I just don't even discuss it with them, because if they're convinced and it's not good, sometimes it's best for me not to say anything. Sometimes it's just like, "Okay, you can have your perception and I will keep knowing that it is good, you know?" I experience these kinds of things all the time where it can be really, really gnarly and difficult and challenging, life threatening even and to hold to it. I've definitely had some experiences where there was no question. I could have died. No question, I could have died.

In the moment of some experience, I literally had the thought, "Wow, I could die, right here right now." I have had that experience a number of times, but I didn't die. In those cases, I wasn't even injured. There was like a bubble protector around me. It wasn't my time. It's amazing how the protection can surround you.

I know people that have been in just horrific car accidents, where the car exploded and they appeared on the sidewalk, something took them out of the car, and transported them invisibly to the sidewalk. We think we know, but we don't know. Let's put our faith in the Love of God and say transport me to the other shore, transport me to that table, that's laid out for me in the presence of my enemies.

No to Fall Idols

In paragraph 4 here, it says "Put not your Faith in illusions, they will fail you. Put all your Faith in the Love of God within you, eternal, changeless, and forever unfailing. This is the answer to whatever confronts you today to which is practice one day at a time, one hour at a time. Through the Love of God within you, you can resolve all seeming difficulties without effort and ensure confidence. Tell yourself this often today, it is a declaration of release from the belief in idols. It is your acknowledgment of the truth about yourself." Thinking that others are going to save us or protect us, you see, that's where the idols come in, falls idols. Love is our protector.

The lesson here for 10 minutes, twice today, morning and evening, let the idea for today sink deep into your consciousness repeated. Think about it. Let related thoughts come to help you recognize its truth and allow peace to flow over you like a blanket of protection and surety. Let no idol and foolish thoughts enter to disturb the Holy mind of the Son of God, such as the Kingdom of Heaven, such as the resting place where your Father has placed you forever.

Now, it doesn't mean we won't have challenges, but those challenges, I believe, if we meet them in this I AM sustained by the Love of God consciousness, whatever challenges come our way will strengthen us, will support us in our awakening, will support us from release of the ego's grip...

...or we can place it in the Spirit.

Now, anyone who's been listening to this radio show for some time, will know that I often say--when people ask me, "Hey, I'm new to A Course in Miracles, where do I start"? Well, one place I encourage people to start is with Gary Renard's book "The Disappearance of the Universe." I think it's very helpful. Then, I tell people that I think it's very helpful to read the clarification of terms in the back, and then the Manual for Teachers. Then, you can also alternate reading the text and the Workbook as you wish, but it's doing the Workbook, that's going to be the mind training that releases you from the fear and placing your Faith in the ego, and transforms your mind to placing your faith in the Spirit.

We have to develop trust in Love and in recognizing that Love is going to sustain us in every moment, if it's for the highest and best. Now, many times, we don't get what we want, but what we want is not for the highest and best. That's one of the things I really appreciate that Jesus says in A Course in Miracles, He says, "You don't even know what will make you happy, so stop thinking you know, stop trying to make yourself happy, you do not know what will make you happy."

The only thing that really makes us happy is recognizing that we are the Love of God and placing our Faith in the love of God. But we don't trust it, because, we said to God things like, "God, bring me this and I'll give you that," right? They're giving to get, the bartering with God. And then, we don't get what we thought we wanted or what we thought we wanted doesn't make us happy, and then we think, "Ah, this God. I need a new God. This God is not the God for me. I can't seem to work with this God. I offered this and that and God didn't give me what I wanted. I offer God this and that and God didn't make me happy. What a crap God this is, right?" Yeah, that what a lot of people--they operate that way even if they don't know it. We're eliminating this kind of thinking by working the Workbook. An untrained mind can accomplish nothing.

Development of Trust

Well, let's think about what would we like to accomplish? We'd like to accomplish Peace, Love, Joy eternally. Infinite Love. Our heart full of Love all the time, no matter what and the only way to accomplish that is through this “Development of Trust.” That’s why I always recommend, that this “Development of Trust” section in the Manual for Teachers as my page 10 and 11, just two pages, to read it every day for a week and then start reading it once a week every week.

In there, it talks about how it takes great learning to understand that all things, events, encounters and circumstances are helpful. Everything is helpful. Why would we judge something as not being helpful when it is helpful unless we didn't believe the Course? This is one of the many things that's totally understandable. People read A Course in Miracles on an intellectual level, they think it's true, but they don't believe it in their heart. They are telling themselves one thing, but they're living another thing. Then, what happens is they feel conflicted because their mind is conflicted, and that conflict is going to show up in their life. It's going to show up in their life as problems, as fear and regret and resentments and blame and shame.

The way to happiness is to release all the conflict and the way to release all the conflict is truly to put your Faith in God, that nothing bad or wrong can happen. That everything is helpful. It's absolutely the key.

Now, what it tells us in this trust section, “Development of Trust” in the Manual for Teachers is that, this isn't easy. This is not easy. The Higher Self, the Holy Self, the Holy Spirit is here to help us. It's absolutely here to help us, because it's our safety net. It is our protection. The Love of God that is our true our nature is our protection. However, if we're not anchored in our heart and the Love of God, we will feel vulnerable. But, when we're anchored in the Love of God, we're invulnerable. However, isn't it interesting that even though we study this in A Course of Miracles, that being in our loving heart makes us invulnerable that our safety and protection lies in the Love of God that sustains us?

We move out of our loving heart again and again and again all day to try and manipulate change and manage circumstances, situations, relationships to be the way we think that they should be, thinking that that will make us happy, and that'll make us feel safe, but it never does, as a temporary Band-Aid, if it works at all. We're trading the infinite eternal Peace and Love of God for a temporary Band-Aid. The thing is this, it's just a habit and we can change that habit. What I love about this “Development of Trust” section is what I'll be sharing about when I come back from the break. It's time for me to take a break now.

You're listening to Jennifer Hadley. And we're talking about A Course in Miracles on Unity Online Radio, where we're living the Love and we're walking the talk. I'll be right back.

Loving the Light

Jennifer We're back. I'm Jennifer Hadley. Thank you for joining me. We are discovering our “Safety and Protection lives in the Love of God.

I want to be really clear here that I have experienced miraculous results being unwilling, to be swayed by what I think I see in the world of effects. Sometimes it can look like something awful is happening. My being able to declare all I see, all I know, all I experience, is the Love of God. I'm sustained by the Love of God. I am a child of the light. I live in the light. I love the light. I am protected, illumined, sustained, supported, financed by the light. I bless the light that I am. Being able to stand in that, will always, and I do mean always, bring me miraculous results.

You see, I can tell you that but until you practice it, you don't know. It's practicing it, when there's the sense of terror or desperation [0:41:01.9 to 0:41:08.1 blank audio] so do not be fooled.

In this “Development of Trust” here, it tells us--remember how A Course in Miracles says there's a script and that the script is unfolding? As I talk about the script, it's a multilayered script. It has all these different options in it. The more we choose Love, it opens up amazing, loving options. The more we choose fear, the more it opens up repeating the same lesson and the same lessons and the same lessons again and again. We can choose our experience in the script.

In my experience, there had been a number of times in my life where through the practice of choosing Love which is forgiveness, which is non-judgment, opportunities in the script for transcendent, for miraculous healing on an emotional and a mental level, where I was mentally and emotionally experiencing so much challenge. I just kept saying I choose Love, I choose Love, and I meant it. I meant it. Even though it felt like I was arguing with the ego, even though it felt like I was really struggling, I just kept saying get thee behind me, get thee behind me. I will not be moved. I'm taking a stand for Love. I'm a child of the light. I live in the light. I live in the Love. There is no darkness. I can see no darkness. There is no darkness. There's only the light. I am sustained by the Love of God again and again and again.

Then what happens is where there seemed to be no way, like in a movie, a door opens in a wall, where there was no door before. It's literally like that. I have found myself feeling carried, guided, held and it's through the Faith.

Trusting

You see, we develop Faith through the practice of trusting. Trusting is something that we do in our experience of time and space. Feeling afraid and vulnerable comes from trusting the ego. Feeling invulnerable comes from trusting in Love. The ego will never place its trust in Love. Never, never, never, never, ever, not going to happen. No, no, no, no. We have to break with the ego. A lot of times, this can mean looking situations and circumstances and literally denying what we think we see with our eyes.

It just keeps coming up, so I'm going to say it. There's a wonderful, playful expression that I got from Michael Beckwith, when I was in classes or just even attending services at Agape, where he says, "When you believe more in what you don't see than what you do see, then you will see what you don't see, and you won't see what you do see." That's what I'm talking about.

I'm just going to say that a little slower for those who went, "What?" When you believe more in what you don't see, so when you believe more in the Love of God, in the invisible field of Love, when you believe more in what you don't see than what you do see, because what you think you see with your eyes is the world of war, or so you think it is, right? When you believe more in what you don't see than what you do see, then you will see what you don't see, which is that opening that door, that insight, that clarity.

When you believe more in what you don't see than what you do see, then you will see what you don't see and you won't see what you do see. You'll see the Red Sea parting and you'll see the way through, and you won't see there are many armies chasing after you, threatening you. You will see only freedom. That's another way to see it.

The Chase for Recognition or Validation

Now, in this “Development of Trust” section, it says, “We're going to go through these different periods in our lifetime as we're unwinding the attachment to placing our Faith and trust in the ego and developing the capacity to place our trust and Spirit.”

Now, of course, we--in our Spirit, we have infinite capacity to place our trust in God, because we are the presence of God and we are no part of the ego, the ego's not part of us. It's just a misidentification. The whole issue that were healing here is this misidentification, this misperception of who and what we are.

We're going to go through periods, where we begin to see that we valued is not valuable. Very often, we all get sidetracked with special relationships where the perception is, “Oh, this relationship validates me.” It could be with your dog. It could be with your workplace. It could be with your role in the family. It could be with your spouse, your child, your grandchild, your sweetheart, your friend. Those special relationships we think, “Oh, this relationship is so healing and nurturing to me. It's so special. It makes me feel loved.”

There's not a one of us really that doesn't have to give up those ego-based relationships and that need to be special to feel special, to feel better than or to feel validated. If we're chasing after validation, if we're chasing after recognition, right? A lot of people going down to really painful roads trying to get some recognition, you know, “I don't get no respect. I'm trying to get some respect.” Right? Chasing that is a painful road, right? “On The Waterfront.” Is that “On The Waterfront?” Right, Brando? No. That could've been a contender. What's “I don't get no respect!”? Oh, that's Rodney Dangerfield? Oh, my gosh. [chuckles] Well, you know, you got to admit, Rodney Dangerfield's character that he plays is that "I-don't-get-no-respect" guy, that's not a happy guy, right? He's chasing respect.

Well, that's no way to get respect, to chase it. How do you get respect? You respect yourself. That's it, right there. You respect yourself. You know you respect yourself when nobody can make you do something you don't want to do. That you would never do something you don't want to do just to please somebody. That's not Love. That doesn't Love.

Valuing What Has No Value Takes Away the Safety

This is what the "Development of Trust" section is all about, realizing that ain't it, kid, that's not Love. It says here that we're going to go through changes. We're going to go through experiences, that seem like things are being taken away. It says it's rarely understood initially that it's the lack of value that these things have that our Spirit is trying to help us recognize, just trying to help us get clear. This has no value. You're valuing what has no value. It's like--think of a dog, okay? A lot of dogs, they like to--they feel safe if you put them in a kennel, right? You put them in a cage overnight. They feel safe. They feel protected in that cage. Well, you see, this is just another metaphor in a sense, another demonstration, that the Holy Spirit is giving us to see, "Well, how am I like that dog? Have I put myself in a cage and I think the cage keeps me safe?" Well, if you pick that cage up with the dog in it and you throw into a river, that dog does not feel safe anymore. No way.

If you think that your house or your job or your spouse is giving you your safety, then if something happens to them, they suddenly die, your house burns down or you can't make your mortgage or you lose that job, or the company goes under, or something happens, or you lose the ability to go to work, your legs don't work anymore, your hands don't work anymore, something like that, then you think "Oh, my safety is gone. My protection is gone." But, that experience of seeming loss is actually an opportunity for you to really say, "Okay, I'm sustained by the Love of God. I've been thinking, I was protected and that my safety was in something that it isn't. This is my call to no longer be sleepwalking and placing my trust and Faith in the ego." Is it painful? It doesn't have to be.

But here's what makes it painful, we cling to the way it was and thinking that that was better but we don't actually know that. It's like you--the prisoner who--we see this all the time in the American penal system that prisoners will get out of jail and they want to go right back in, because it's far more threatening for them to be out of prison and making their own decisions than it is to be in prison and they just have to do what they're told. You see?

How are we like that person? I invite you to study the "Development of Trust", section in the Manual for Teachers and see your clear way out of suffering. To value that which is truly valuable, to recognize I AM sustained by the Love of God, and it's the willingness to know that truly that sets us free.

Gosh, it goes by so fast, doesn't it? I'm so grateful, so grateful. People have been writing in some topics.
