Prayer for Healing the Deepest Hurts

Here is the cleaned and formatted transcript, preserving the speaker's wording and voice while correcting obvious transcription errors:

Hello, beautiful. This is Jennifer Hadley, and our prayer for today is for healing the deepest hurts.

We are ready to heal the deepest hurts, so we begin with our hand on our heart.

We are wholeheartedly willing to heal the deepest hurts and no longer identify as a wounded person.

We are willing to see ourselves as whole, as perfect, as innocent, undamaged.

We are grateful and thankful that it's possible for us to recognize that in our true identity, in our true nature, we are perfect, whole, and complete now and forever.

We're willing to relinquish our attachment to seeing ourselves as troubled, as difficult, in pain, or in any way unlovable.

We are consciously recognizing our worthiness, that we are worthy of God's infinite love.

Therefore, we are worthy of anyone and everyone's love, most especially our own.

We are willing to heal the deepest hurts, the deepest wounds.

We don't even have to know what they are. We know the havoc that they are causing in our life, in our consciousness, in our experience of the world, and we are willing to make a shift.

We are willing to see things correctly.

We are so, so grateful for the opportunity that we are giving ourselves to let go of the past and to heal the deepest hurts.

We're grateful that we don't have to make it happen.

We get out of the way, and we allow it to unfold with ease, with grace.

We are fully supported in the visible and the invisible.

Life is for us. Nothing is against us.

And we are grateful to be renewed and restored in the love of God, as the love of God.

We share the benefits of our healing with everyone everywhere because we are forever one with them.

We let it be, and so it is.

Amen. Amen. Amen.

Yes, healing the deepest hurts. Yes.

Thank you for praying with me today, and thank you for being my prayer partner.

Thank you for your willingness. It's so good.

All right, what's going on this weekend?

I'll be at the A Course in Miracles retreat with John Mundy and Vicky Poppy.

And then on Monday, I'm teaching and leading a free forgiveness workshop at 10 AM Eastern.

Let's do it.

And then Living A Course in Miracles: Release the Worry and Rest in Trust begins September 10.

Four days, five teachers, eight free classes.

Sign up now so you don't forget.

And then September 21 is when the Finding Freedom from Fear Boot Camp begins.

So here's your invitation to check out all the details at powerofloveministry.net.

I love you.

Have an amazing day healing the deepest hurts.
