Prayer for Taking Love to Work

Hello, beautiful. This is Jennifer Hadley, and our prayer for today is for taking love to work.

Let's take love to work with us. Even if you're retired, let's take love to work with us. Even if you're a full-time student, let's take love to work with us. Yes, we're working it. We're working the love.

And we are grateful to place our hand upon our heart, take a breath of love and gratitude.

We are grateful to rise up together, so grateful to recognize the power of love with us, the power of love in our mind, the power of love in our life and in our relationships. And that's what we're taking to work with us: the power of love to transform, to heal, to unite, to uplift and inspire.

The power of love within us is generating a healing vortex right now.

We are grateful to open ourselves to all manner of expansion because we're taking love to work today. We're taking love into the nooks and crannies of our life, and we're taking love into all aspects of our life. We're not leaving any part out.

We are grateful to call for miraculous healing by the power of love within us in every area of our life.

We're lifting ourselves up. We're shining the light of beauty and truth, and wisdom and clarity.

We're grateful and thankful to know that right where we are, love is.

And so we are sharing and extending the love that is God's gift in us, operating in us.

So we're sharing the love at work today, spreading it in our mind, in our heart, in our countenance, in the very vibration of our voice, sharing the benefits with everyone, everywhere, because we are forever one with them.

We allow it to be, and so it is.

Amen. Amen.

Oh, man. Yes.

Thank you for being my prayer partner. Thank you for praying with me today. I appreciate you.

Oh my gosh, I love to pray with you, so thank you. I do appreciate you.

Yeah, okay. What is coming up?

The forgiveness workshop, Monday a week from today, Monday, Indigenous Peoples' Day, formerly Columbus Day holiday. I'm inviting you to come to a free forgiveness workshop with me. Let's make it a healing day. Yes.

All right, and then more stuff coming in October. We're gonna open registration for Masterful Living next year, and the bonuses will be coming early. Registration brings bonuses this year, live classes with me.

So, yeah, we've got a wonderful program planned for next year and the rest of this year.
